Dedication

TO OUR DEAR PARENTS, who at great sacrifice made it possible for us to get a Catholic Education, we, the Seniors of Saint Casimir High, humbly dedicate this volume of Casmirecho of 1948.

THE SENIORS OF 1948
Present
THE CASMIRECHO
SENIOR MEMORY BOOK
SAINT CASIMIR'S HIGH SCHOOL
Detroit, Michigan

Foreword

TWENTY YEARS AGO Saint Casimir High School was in its infancy. Today because of the seed well planted, nourished and tended, the accomplishments of the students of Saint Casimir High have blossomed into ideals and traditions never to be forgotten. Although still comparatively small, it has behind it a colorful career, and has gained for its heritage a name of true scholarship and fine citizenship. With this edition of the Casmirecho for 1948, another interesting year in the history of Saint Casimir High has been brought to a close—a year outstanding in new companionships, achievements, ideals and hopes.

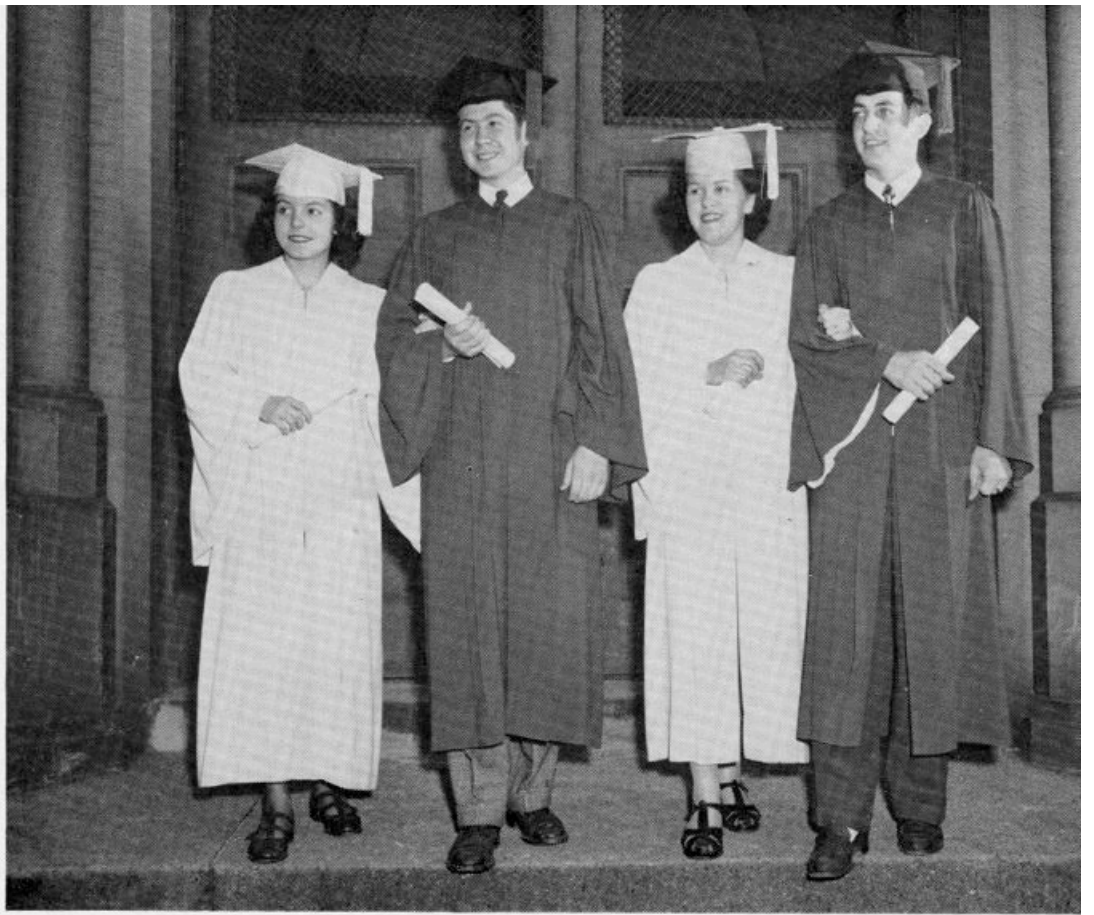

THROUGH THE THEME "Ready to Face the World" we have tried in a small way to portray the indomitable spirit of Saint Casimir High by recording a typical year with the accomplishments of the students in their various classes and clubs, their student government, their athletics, their religious life and their scholastic achievements.

THE SPIRIT OF SAINT CASIMIR HIGH is the spirit of friendliness and cooperation. This is built on the social virtues of courtesy, kindness, sympathy, mutual trust and forgiveness.

AS ONE GLANCES through this book and turns the pages of our school life, both Scholastic and Social, one can readily see that the rudiments of these ideals have been instilled into our minds and hearts through study and everyday practice of these fundamentals. For this we, the class of 1948, are greatly indebted to each and everyone of our dear faculty. When hearts are too full for words we can only say—"May heavenly benedictions continue to rest upon all your efforts in the future, as they have in the past. Your names will be with us in grateful memory for many a day."

OUR ALMA MATER has lighted the beacon of learning in our souls, molded our character unto the image of Christ and guided our spirit unto the right path. Now we are "Ready to Face the World," to go out into it, a finished product of a Catholic education.

United in the Mystical Body of Christ

EVENTS OF VARIOUS DEGREES of importance have crowded our school days. These will soon be forgotten, but the rub-of-time will never dim the memory of the devotion tendered us by our teachers and spiritual directors. We have learned from these guides how to make investments that will pay dividends beyond the grave.

THE WAY, TRUTH AND LIFE OF CHRIST have been formed within us—the game of Christian living is ours to carry on.

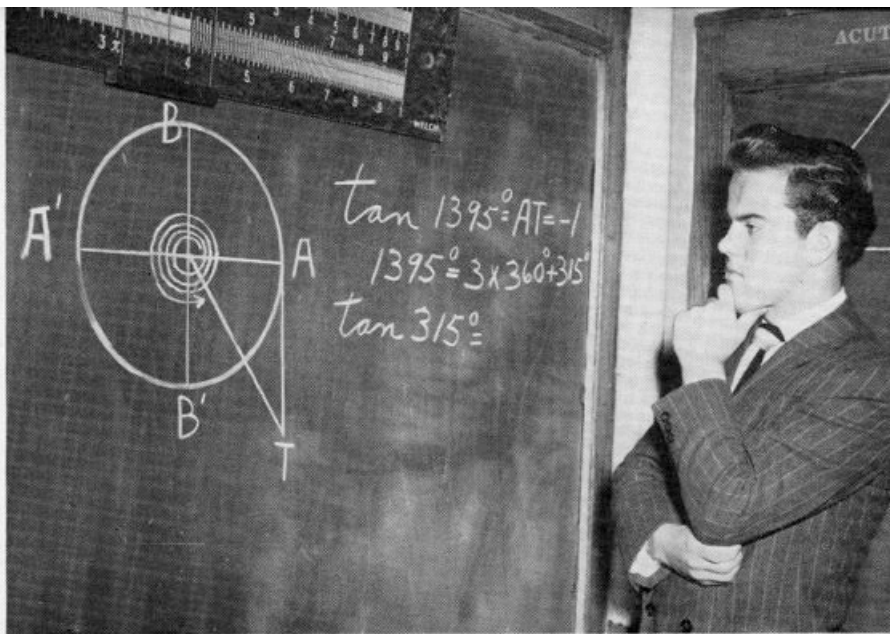

LEADING THE STUDENTS in spiritual paths are the ever-present Holy Name Society and the Sodality of Our Lady. At the upper left, the Holy Name group is at Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The upper right depicts the May-Crowning ceremony of Our Lady by Genevieve Potochick, the Sodality Prefect and her guard of honor, Mary Ann Sandecki, Ann Brylowski, Rita Literacki, Helen Mosakowski, Mary Ann Kumor and Rita Turczyn.

THE BOTTOM PICTURE recalls the memory of our first closed retreat at Saint Casimir High. Under the capable direction of the Rev. J. Kowalski, these were three heavenly days of prayer and meditation. We hope it will be made into a tradition—an annual retreat at Saint Casimir High.

Honor Lies In Honest Toil

Sister Mary Anatolia presents the Honor cup to the Senior class presidents. The ambitious Seniors were fortunate to keep it uninterrupted, the whole year through.

IN THE RANKS of the student body we usually find those who consistently strive for ever higher scholastic standing. For these students the coveted "Magna Cum Laude" or "Cum Laude" standings are reserved. A scholar must earn at least forty-four honor points a year for four years to merit the "Magna Cum Laude." A "Cum Laude" rating requires an honor-roll rating for three years, including the senior year. The seniors who have merited these titles have them engraved on the diploma and on a special wall plaque hanging in the school hall.

THE OUTSTANDING HONOR STUDENTS of the class of '48 who have merited the "Magna Cum Laude" rating are: Irene Widuta, Thaddeus Ozog, Geraldine Parpart, Genevieve Potochick, Mary Ann Kumor, Eleanor Bartos, Phyllis Kwiatkowski, Stanley Wojciechowski, Ann Brylowski and Rita Literacki.

THE "CUM LAUDE" students are Phyllis Drwila and Angela Brenda.

JUNIORS

TO YOU, THE CLASS OF '49, we leave the responsibilities of entering S.C.H. next fall and taking upon your shoulders the duties that go with being a senior. Our faith in you makes it possible for us to leave knowing that classes like you will carry on in St. Casimir High and that you will keep the high ideals and standards that our Alma Mater has always held.

SOPHOMORES

AS YOUR SECOND YEAR of high school draws to a close, you sophomores of 1947 are well on your way to greater and more extensive fields of endeavor. To you, the junior class of '49, goes a sincere wish that your cooperative spirit and ambition will continue to make you leaders of the upper classmen. May your spirit and determination grow stronger with each day and be ever an asset to St. Casimir High.

"School days, school days"

Activities

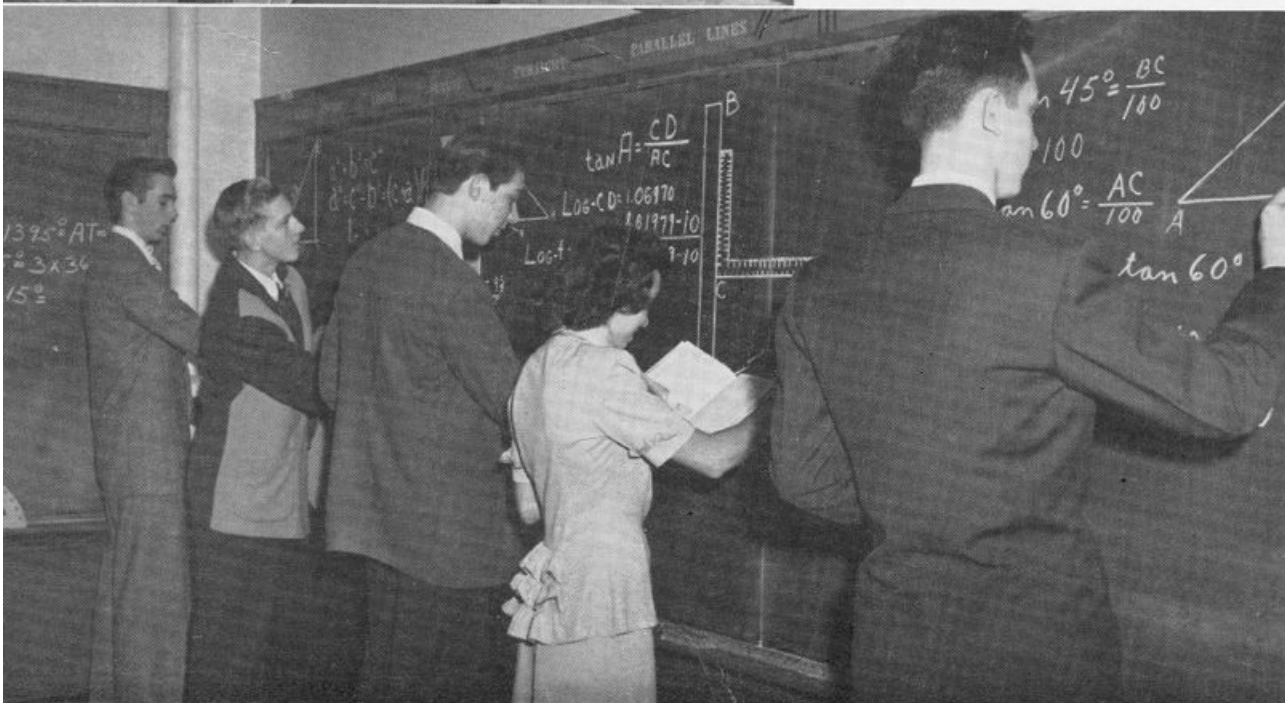

Speed Precision Accuracy

The work of the future commercial experts as typists, stenographers and bookkeepers is an important one for those who will enter into economic affairs.

One of the most hectic periods of the day comes in the typing class at testing time, where each student strives to better his word average daily. S. C. High can boast about its many excellent typists.

Office training is not the only skilled course offered to the students. This year drafting has made its initial appearance in the curricula of the school. Pictured here are a few hard-working juniors.

Trigonometry is by no means a stumbling block for these mathematicians.

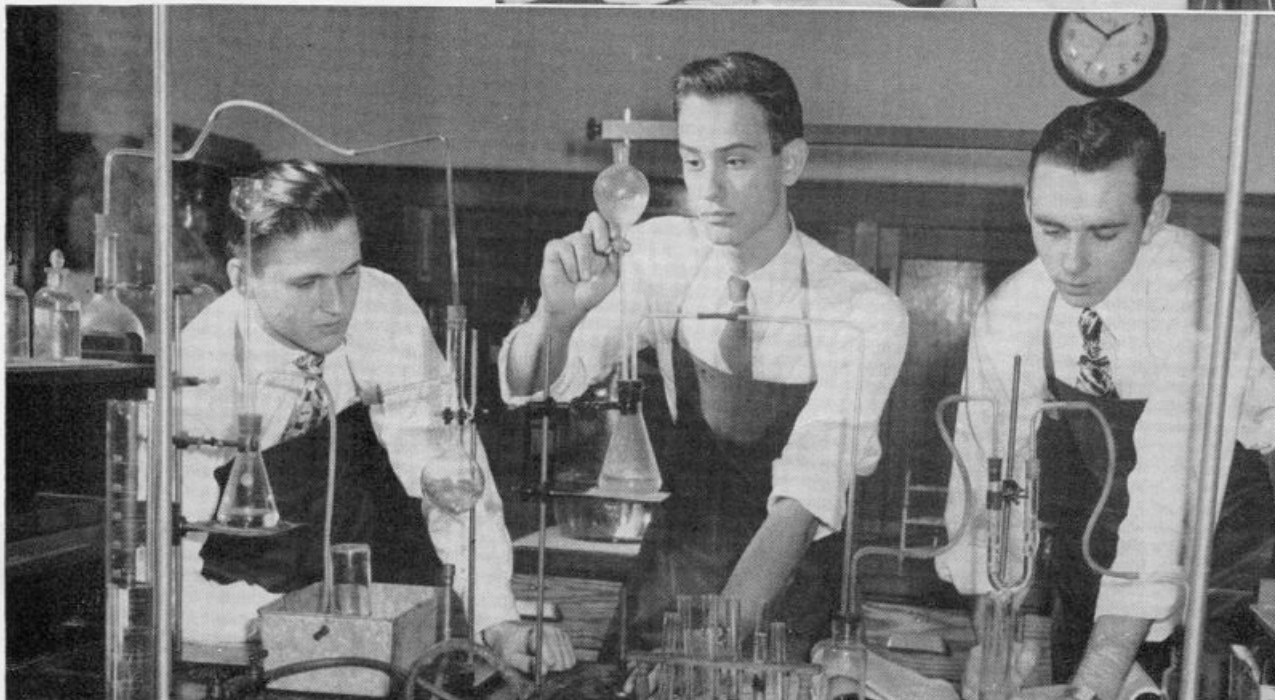

Concentration Leadership Skill

The world today is in need of truly educated men and women. The Catholic system of education aims to prepare the boys and girls for the work each one is best fitted; some to the common ordinary jobs of workers, others to specialized professional work in the business world, in scientific research, in medical or legal positions, or as statesmen to direct the world's course—

In the upper picture we find a group of Freshmen busily engaged in the study of Latin. These youngsters are determined to do some honest-to-goodness work.

The traffic safety course, under the leadership of Officer Norbert Deary, left us seniors with a great deal of knowledge about safe driving, besides giving everyone an enjoyable two weeks of problem discussion upon good citizenship.

The intriguing mysteries of chemistry have captured the full attention of three ambitious scientists. They are Joe Nalepa, Wen Dombrowski and Ed Zyla.

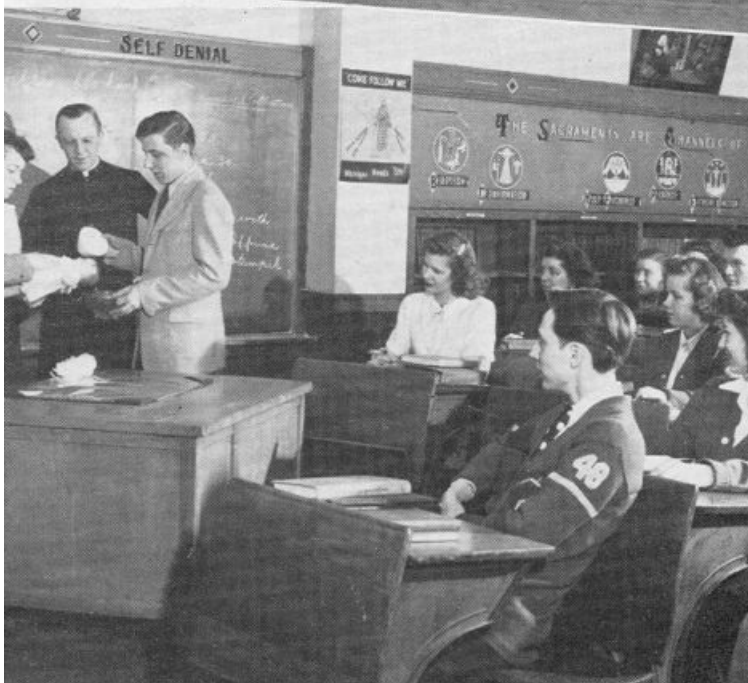

Information Appreciation Satisfaction

The American History class studies not only the early and past history of our nation, but also keeps up with the modern trends and the latest news through the "American Observer." Here Rita Turczyn is seen distributing the latest issue during a study period.

The music department provides voice training and teaches cooperation and harmony. Here the choral group rehearses one of its excellent classical songs, as a contribution to the Senior Play.

"I baptize thee, Joan, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost," says Bob Gulvas, as he gives a practical demonstration of a conditional baptism. Ted Ozog and Phyllis Kwiatkowski act as sponsors, while Father Van, the sociology instructor, supervises this practical application of Catholic Action.

Recreation

Relaxation

Refreshment

! Soon after the wet autumn weather set in, Recreation Hour a noon pastime now in its second year, was resumed. Games such as checkers, card games, ping-pong and volley ball were offered in the auditorium under the supervision of the Recreation Committee, composed of members from the Student Council.

After-school dances have also been sponsored at regular intervals to provide for the wholesome, social life of Saint Casimir High School Students.

Frank and Eddie's is just one of the social hang-outs, where many of the students meet informally to chat over cokes and sodas, or to discuss daily problems.

United Action

Cooperative Living

Harmony

Leisure time activities have one main purpose, to train for cooperative living by giving opportunities for united action in various pastimes, games and sports. The importance of cooperation and harmony is especially seen in the disrupted, uncertain conditions of society at large today.

The recreation program, inaugurated to take up the students' leisure time, has done much to provide an answer for "something to do" and has eliminated much unnecessary noise and confusion in the hallways.

Besides arrangements for games of checkers, bowling or ping-pong, for the adventurous and active members, the library is available for the more sedate and industrious students.

St. Casimir High has its share of book worms as one can see. These industrious students could often be found fondly speaking with their best friends—the books.

Enjoying a friendly game of Chinese checkers has often been one of the pastimes of the upper classmen. Here we can see Arthur Wondolowski, Angela Brenda and Dorothy Kajkowski in the midst of one such game.

Social Development

Fuller Living

The ceremony of Ring-Day, with its symbolic pledge of fidelity and loyalty to our Alma Mater, was one of the highlights of the senior year. Presented in a most elaborate style by the Juniors, it was joyful, yet tinged with sorrow at the thought that we would soon be leaving this school.

When memory grows hazy in recalling the past events of our high school days, one glance at the class ring, will bring back floods of happy reminiscences from that joyful Ring-Day morn. Then we will recall the feeling of elation and joy as it was first blessed and placed upon our finger by Father V. Dominas. The inspiring words of Father Van Szymanski, our toast-master at this occasion, will again awaken those hopes and dreams that were locked within each of our hearts on that day.

Smiling eyes and happy laughter reflected the joys of the pleased seniors as they were feted by the juniors at their Ring-Day Breakfast.

In the lower picture is featured some of the dancing which followed the Ring Day Breakfast. Gerry Parpart and Bob Gulvas are nearest to the camera. Father Van, the toastmaster for the occasion, is congratulating the celebrants.

Father Dominas is placing the class ring on the finger of Rose Mary Slowinski.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Light Eternal

A Comedy-Drama in Three Acts by Charles George

THE CAST

Michael O'Brien, a bricklayer.....	Stanley Wojciechowski
Maggie O'Brien, his wife.....	Joan Turowski
Margaret O'Brien, his young daughter.....	Mary Ann Kumor
George O'Brien, his young son.....	Donald Machuta
Mrs. Mary Conway, a gossip neighbor.....	Rita Turczyn
Daniel Collins, Margaret's fiance.....	Gerald Ciesielski
Father Patrick Nolan, a priest.....	Thaddeus Ozog
James Nolan, a stranger.....	Henry Pietrzyk
Marie Stafford, a music teacher.....	Christine Matey

"The Light Eternal" is the story of the humorous, argumentative O'Brien couple and Margaret and George, their two children.

As the story opens Margaret finds her fiance, Danny Collins very persistent and attentive, although she reminds him that he should be on his way and at work at this time of day. After bossy and rather matter-of-fact Mrs. O'Brien finds Danny in the house and makes it plain that he is wasting his and Margaret's time, Mrs. Conway, the local gossip, brings in a choice bit of scandal. Here she exposes the boarder, Marie Stafford, as a married woman, much to Mrs. O'Brien's disgust. Events move very rapidly when Mike and Maggie O'Brien learn that their son George is in love with Miss Stafford, now a married woman. The climax comes, as Father Nolan and Marie discuss her personal problems, during a sudden rain and thunder storm. At its height a tramp, James

Nolan, appears on the scene. Being recognized by Father Nolan, as his long-lost brother and by Marie Stafford as her husband, he ridicules God and religion, blaspheming something awful. In the midst of his blasphemy and the prayers of Father Nolan, he is struck by lightning, stunned and blinded.

Mrs. Conway now learns from Mrs. O'Brien, much to her embarrassment and humiliation, the real identity of Marie Stafford and the tramp, but true to her nature she rejoices even in this situation because it involves news. Danny Collins coming in on the morning after the storm, finds Mrs. O'Brien so sympathetic and cooperative with his plans that for a time he doubts her health. The final death scene of the now-repentant James Nolan and the emotional tension due to this incident leave the audience in tears.

Prom Night

Young ladies in all their glamorous beauty and their handsome escorts, looking, oh, so dignified in their immaculate tuxedos, eagerly hurried to this, the most prominent social event of their high school career—the Senior Prom.

Larry Paige and his superb Pages of Melody did much to make this a real night of enchantment for all who entered the beautiful ballroom of the League of Catholic Women.

A very enjoyable feature of the Prom was the Grand March led by the Prom Chairman, Joseph Kosinski and the queen of the evening, Regina Grzywacz. Many exclamations of surprise and admiration could be heard as the lovely queen of the Prom stepped forth to receive the insignia of her office and a magnificent spray of American beauties and lilies of the valley.

Pictured here are a few scenes from that unforgettable night.

At top and bottom are the two action shots on the dance floor.

At upper right we find Father Van chatting with a group of seniors in an alcove on the balcony.

At the foot of the stairs we see Joseph Kosinski and Irene Widuta, members of the Prom Committee, greeting the guests of the evening as they enter the ballroom. In the lounge we find a group of seniors relaxing between the dances.

Here is shown a part of the group ready to participate in the Grand March.

Organizations

Harmony of Purpose

Clubs and organizations play a very important part in the social world today. To obtain the best results from the variety of interests among the student body S. C. High School, too, believes in a harmony of purpose to regulate the daily life and to direct the habits and the leadership of its members into the right channels.

Foremost among the school organizations sponsored at St. Casimir High is the Student Council, established on democratic principles and operated strictly under parliamentary procedure.

This year's governing body functioned under the capable leadership of Stanley Wojciechowski as President, Bob Victor as Vice-President, William Wojnar as Treasurer, and Phyllis Kwiatkowski as Secretary.

The Student Council President, Stanley Wojciechowski in action.

Officers of the Mission Society: Regina Grzywacz, Dorothy Mikulec, Christine Sikorska. Standing: Joe Nalepa, Emily Narkun, Joe Plonka, Dorothy Borowska, Geraldine Laskowski, Beatrice Mucha.

Members of the Casmirecho Staff, busily planning this volume: Gene Potochick, Editor-in-Chief; Henry Pietrzyk, Rita Turczyn and Eleanor Bartos, Associate Editors; Fred Leja and Bill Wojnar, Business Managers; George Kaminski and Bob Gulvas, Art Editors.

Student Inspiration

The Library Department is more than a club. Its members feel that the library is a power house of the school and that they, as expert mechanics, can do much to induce and to help students to draw out books and other reading matter so as to help form and develop more wholesome reading habits.

The news and views of St. Casimir High are printed monthly in the school paper "The Casmirette." Sponsored by the Journalism and Senior Class it is one of the major activities in school. The Casmirette staff is in the process of making and pasting the dummy copy.

The Camera Club is a comparatively new club. Organized by a group of camera enthusiasts under the leadership of Gerry Lelo it has sponsored a successful skating party and has proved itself a fine asset to the publications department.

Here a group of the Journalism students check exchange papers, before starting on a new issue of "The Casmirette."

Democracy In Action

Saint Casimir High believes that an incentive and an inspiration must be given towards a high and noble living, if the school is to contribute towards the development of skills, attitudes and ideals leading to an effective and very active American citizenship and world cooperation for peace. As a consequence, all opportunities for moral, intellectual, physical and social development are eagerly utilized and all signs of leadership are encouraged. The world at large looks forward to its true leaders—those who will keep their promises, stick to their principles, and dare to fight for the truth. The daily press and the radio are the channels that tell us how the world struggles in vain today for permanent peace, because many of its leaders gamble with human life and ethical principles—while God's laws are forgotten, and man's rules are hollow and empty. As we go out into the world, we know that order and harmony can only be realized, if the harmony between God and man is kept unbroken—that the torch of freedom, justice and humanity must be carried forward unflinchingly, tomorrow as well as today.

Casmirittes make it a point to be informed on the latest news. Here the momentous speech on the U.M.T. by President Truman gets full attention from Gerry Klonowski, Regina Grzywacz, Fred Leja and Martha Szydzik.

Joan Turowski makes it a point to corner the Student Council President on his views about the U.M.T. Results seem to be satisfactory to all concerned.

Freedom of Speech Press Assembly

The school band is not only a very vital part of our music department, but a real asset to school spirit and public gatherings. The blend of instrumental and vocal talent as illustrated by the school assembly makes for a very harmonious living.

Many were the discussions of vital world problems in the American History class. Formal panels and debates showed many logical thinkers and fine leadership in the ballot-holders of tomorrow.

"Yeah! St. Casimirs!

Athletics

Crescents In Action

The Crescent cagers, under the capable training of coach Tony Zientarski, ended the season by surpassing last year's record with a .500 percentage.

The outstanding game of the year came when the quintet upset St. Patrick, the leading contender to the West Side Championship, by a good margin, 49-36.

Due credit must be given to the whole team for its fighting spirit. No matter what the score—whether they won or lost—upholding the ideals of the St. Casimir athletes, our Crescents have been faithful, loyal and dependable sportsmen athletes. Their motto—"Fight hard until the last whistle, but always fight clean," has really been put into practice by them.

Here we see the varsity getting some last minute tips from the coach, Tony Zientarski. The quintet in a huddle, between plays—with the cheering squad giving them courage and pep to go on.

Some spirited fighting for the ball.

The cheering squad really giving the varsity a hearty yell.

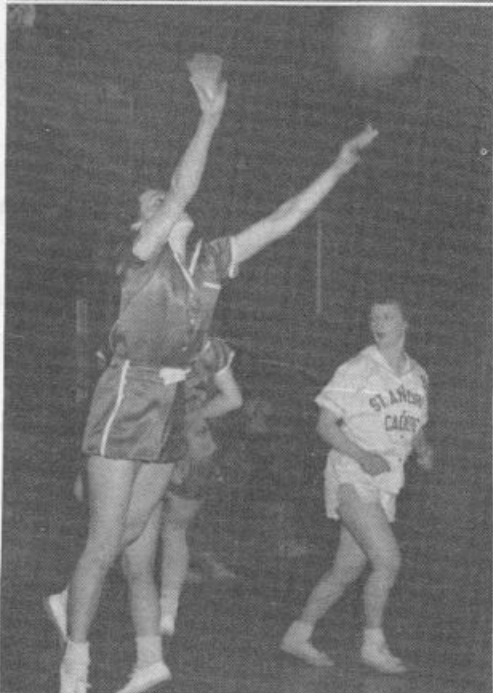

Flames Repeat West Side Victory

Mrs. Bernice Kleir
Coach

The past season has proved to be another successful one for the St. Casimir Flames—the Girl's Basketball team. For the second consecutive year they have won recognition for being unbeatable and thus winning the C. Y. O. League Championship for the West Side.

Fine sportsmanship, great ability and close-knit team work have helped to win this impressive record for the girls. The forwards' excellent shooting and the guards' blocking are some of the things that put the team in first place. Behind this is the three years' hard work of Mrs. Bernice Klein, as the girls' coach. It was through her understanding, patience and teaching that such success was possible. Among these outstanding players are four graduating seniors Rita Turczyn, Christine Matey, Genevieve Potochick and Mary Ann Sandecki.

First row: Irene Widula, Martha Szydzik, Mary Ann Kumor. Second row: Regina Grzywacz, Rita Sienkowski, Gerry Kucowski, and Betty Matuszewski.

Intramural Basketball

The intramural basketball games at S. C. H. proved almost as exciting as the varsity league games. Divided into eight teams — four for the girls and four for the boys, the teams played against each other in their own group.

Under the direction of the Student Council varsity members the games showed the Senior Girl Sextet and the Senior Boy Quintet undefeated for the season.

The basketball tournaments at the end of the season, among the all-stars from each team and between the winners and the varsity, proved particularly popular and thrilling.

S-t-r-i-k-e! Play Ball!

Saint Casimir High School is fortunate that a bowling alley is sponsored by the Parish. Here teams of bowlers from the Juniors and Seniors tried their mettle and gained much experience. The Seniors who were outstanding in this sport proved to have quite a number of faithful bowling fans.

A large number of hopefuls and several athletic-minded Crescents turned out early in the spring in order to be eligible for the baseball team. Coached by Ed Zelek, an outstanding player from the St. Louis Browns, a final slate of players was eventually made.

The hopes of each of the players are high for a championship this year and if hitting improves, their hopes may be more than realized.

Raring to go, the team must wait for better weather. Pictured here—

Farewell

A cap, a gown, and a diploma are ours today. Parting words bring happiness and tears. We must go out into life with its glamor, its opportunities, its problems and tiresome confusion. Uncertainties bewilder us, but the high standards of Christian training and the ideals with which we have been enriched at St. Casimir High strengthen us. With grateful appreciation for the friendships, understanding and patience of our teachers, and the loyalty of our classmates, we dare to go forth—ready to face the world. The spirit and zeal of youth beckon to us. Farewell, St. Casimir High! Farewell, Treasured Alma Mater!

*Four years have gone into the past
To stand there side by side—
With other years and other days
That we recall with pride.
Now, we don't ask that you record
In letters large and bold
Our deeds and acts at S. C. High
To tarnish and grow cold.
But as school days pass away,
And your garden of memories grows full,
With thoughts of friends and happy times
That you have spent in school.
In some obscure corner,
Please leave a tiny space
For your friends and pals who leave you now,
"The class of '48!"*

If You're Entering College

To qualified girls who are entering college to prepare for a business career, Michigan Bell offers a special plan of summer and Christmas vacation work.

The plan enables qualified girls, who definitely plan to work for Michigan Bell after they have obtained their college degree, to obtain necessary experience in our specialized field prior to graduation from college.

If you are planning a business career for yourself after completing college, we cordially invite you to drop by the Employment Office and discuss our college plan with us.
